

Writing Activity: The Rest of the Story

Cluster 3 page 112

Directions: In several paragraphs, continue one of the stories you have read so far, focusing on possible consequences of a decision a character makes, or is about to make. For example, you might describe Ashleigh's thoughts as she makes her final choice, or you might show what becomes of Norma and the box in "Button, Button."

Use the chart on the following screens to gather information for your story's ending. In the Logical scenario box, make notes for an ending that would make sense in the context of the story.

To Move Beyond the Story

- take into account what has already happened
- consider the characters and personalities of the people involved
- suggest a scenario that is logical within the context of the story
